

TEACHING WITH DOCUMENTS AT THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES

Upcoming Workshops:

- September 13, 2005

Teaching With Documents: "The U.S. Constitution"

Participants will learn how to use historical documents to teach students about the United States Constitution.

- October 11, 2005

Educational Resources at NARA

The National Archives comprises the richest record of America's past in the nation, and all of our material is available to teachers. Join us at our teacher open house to learn about our many educational resources.

- November 8, 2005

Teaching With Documents: Archival Research

Participants will learn the differences between libraries and archives, how to gain access to archival holdings, and how archival holdings are arranged. Learn specifically how to locate and access records stored by the National Archives. In the second half of the workshop, attendees will receive researcher cards and perform hands-on research in the reference room.

- December 6, 2005

Teaching With Documents: Document Analysis

Participants will learn how to get the most information out of an archival record or historical document by analyzing it and interpreting it. Learn how to analyze and interpret several types of records including documents, photographs, cartoons, and maps. Learn why document analysis is an important tool for teacher, student, and researcher.

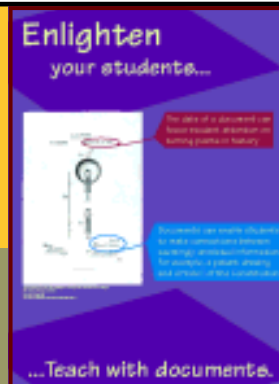

All workshops are from 4:30 PM to 6:00 PM.

Workshops are free. Space is limited so please call, fax, or email to register.

Toll Free Phone: 866-840-1752 - Fax: 212-401-1638

E-mail: newyork.archives@nara.gov

National Archives - Northeast Region - New York
201 Varick Street, 12th floor; New York, NY 10014-4811

FREE

FREE

FREE